CRITICAL THINKING: A VITAL AUDITING COMPETENCY

(DEVELOPED BY GLOBAL IIA)

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Critical thinking is often the central ingredient necessary for providing insights that help management better manage risk and create a sustainable control environment. Most organizations consider critical thinking an indispensable skill for internal auditors.

Critical thinking skills lead to improved decision-making and can result in better organizational performance. It involves the tasks of collecting and analyzing information, drawing compelling conclusions, and providing recommendations that better enable organizations to achieve their strategic objectives.

This course examines the various facets and components of this important core competency and demonstrates how it can be weaved throughout key elements of the audit process. Critical thinking is disciplined thinking that is clear, rational, open-minded, and informed by evidence, which makes it ideally suited for application in an audit setting. The concepts and practices presented in this course are designed to enhance audit effectiveness and deliver measurable value to audit customers.

WHO WILL BENEFIT FROM THIS COURSE?

This course provides hands on, practical application of critical thinking skills, in context to daily activities of an internal auditor. This course is intended for senior and staff auditors seeking an opportunity to enhance their audit interviewing techniques and the quality of their workpapers; lead auditors who want to employ critical thinking skills in conversations with management and in the development of audit observations; and audit managers and/or CAEs interested in learning how to integrate critical thinking throughout the audit cycle.
