

SHARIAH COMPLIANCE RISK - ISLAMIC FINANCE'S UNIQUE RISK

OVERVIEW

During the last 50 years, the Islamic finance industry has taken giant steps towards becoming a meaningful and viable option in global finance. A fundamental plank in this development is a proper risk management framework. This one-day seminar summarises the journey, identifies the similarities and differences between risk management in Islamic finance and conventional finance, with a focus on the unique risk in Islamic finance - Shariah Non-Compliance Risk. The key regulations for Islamic finance risk management are identified to foster discussion and a better understanding of their key elements.

This seminar is geared to Boards Directors, Audit Committee Members, Chief Audit Executives, and Senior Management.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of this seminar, participants will:

- Gain an improved appreciation of the fundamentals of Islamic finance, its position in global finance and its key fund and non-fund based products.
- Be better able to oversight the disparate elements of risk management in Islamic finance, based on the key regulations in this area including IFSB's Principles and BNM Policy documents.
- Have an improved understanding of Shariah Non-Compliance risk ('SNCR'), and how it can be mitigated.
- Possess additional tools to question and appraise proposals regarding SNCR and other risks.
