

INTERNAL AUDIT REPORT WRITING "8 KEY ASPECTS FOR IMPROVED COMMUNICATION, IMPACT & ASSURANCE"

OVERVIEW

Persuasive communication is an essential skill for auditors at all levels and is one of the 10 core skills recognized under the IIA's Global Competency Framework for Internal Auditors. Undeniably, high-quality audit reports are a key communication tool to successfully elicit management action and communicate crucial messages to executives and board-level readers.

In this 2-day intensive workshop, participants will learn to enquire and understand that it is vital to appreciate the larger picture of the audit findings in relation to the business risk and impact along with the required control practices before putting their thoughts in systematic writings to convince their management. Often, the internal auditors are only interested to communicate their thoughts without considering views from the business or how the audit findings could or have impacted the business (with clear proof), leaving them in a weak position to articulate effectively to convince the management.

Another must-have skill which will be covered in this workshop is the ability to correctly identify root cause for each audit finding so that proper remedy can be prescribed to strengthen the internal control system. By honing these skills, participants can distinguish themselves in their current position and prepare to elevate themselves to be the trusted partner for the organization.
